

ISH 2019 is coming up in Frankfurt (March 11-15). It is known that no other show is as sharply focused on forward-looking subjects such as the conservation of resources and the use of renewable energies.

That makes ISH the ideal place for you to get acquainted with the new era of Calpak!

New Calpak Smart-Factory

Standing right next to the first Calpak Factory that started operating over 42 years ago, the new factory is ready to host disruptive production lines and new processes that will further improve the quality, reliability and performance of solar thermal collectors and hot water tanks!

New Calpak X-Flow Tank

25% higher energy yield

Since 1976, Calpak is a leader in change and innovation striving for higher energy efficiency and performance.

The ground-breaking, patented, technology of X-Flow tanks ensures extremely fast and efficient conduction of heat. This results into an extra energy saving of 25% when compared to a conventional tank!

New Calpak Prisma Collector

Following the remarkable success of M4, we are proud to announce the launch of Prisma, an innovative, patented, flat plate collector.

Prisma introduces in the solar thermal industry a unique polymeric material, primarily known and used in the automotive industry. This material, applied in the collector's casing, strengthens its composite structure, achieves absolute humidity protection and offers a perfect finishing.

Produced by Calpak's brand new, fully automated production plant that ensures standardized quality, Prisma is the smart choice in solar thermal installations!

Let's meet at ISH

At ISH 2019, between 11-15 of March, you will have the opportunity to see the latest Calpak products and more importantly we can discuss how you can capitalise on them to grow your business!

If you would like to arrange a dedicated meeting that fits to your schedule, it can be arranged prior to your visit.

I look forward to seeing you soon at ISH!

Best regards,
Panayis Konstantinidis
Calpak CEO